The gun, controlled by the Gyro Engineering Company, is constructed of copper and aluminum and has the advantage of being light and compact. It can be set up on any base and can be deaved and single of the gundle of a ship or the framework of an automobile. It utilizes 80 per cent of the force generated and can be operated with any sort of motor.

Mexisting for his recent disapproval of the West Side improvement plans after he had signed the plans as a member of the Board of Estimate's committee on port and terminal.

"It is not too much to say that we have reached a point where the Port of New York has got to fight, and fight hard, to hold what it has," said Commissioner Smith. "Pethaps the most ites is to enlarge and improve rail acilities into the Board who has been present at all the lengthy and ardious negotiations with the New York Central Railroad Company should at this stage in the proceedings raise points which were thoroughly discussed in conferences and unon which he has been present at all the lengthy and ardious negotiations with the New York Central Railroad Company should at this ship were thoroughly discussed in conferences and unon which he has been present at all the lengthy and ardious negotiations with the New York Central Railroad Company should at this ship which were thoroughly discussed in conferences and unon which he has been present at all the lengthy and ardious negotiations with the New York Central Railroad Company should at this ship were thoroughly discussed in conferences and unon which he has been present at all the lengthy and ardious negotiations with the New York Central Railroad Company should at this ship which were thoroughly discussed in conferences and unon which he has been present at all the lengthy and ardious negotiations with the New York Central Railroad Company should at this ship which were thoroughly discussed in sont negotiations with the New York Central Railroad Company should at this stage in the proceedings raise points which were thoroughly discussed in conferences and upon which he heart ily concurred, as evidenced by his signature to the forty-four sheets of the full-size plans which have been on public view and to the report to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment."

The Commissioner said that upon the completion and execution of the plans Borough President Marks showered compliments upon certain members of the committee, and they all agreed that the city engineers and the city officials who had worked out the intricate problem were entitled to proper recognition. Mr. Smith also declared that the Borough President, by his recent attitude, conveyed to the public his lack of confidence in his own engineering staff. He asserted that all the other members of the committee and the city officials who had anything to do with the plans of the committee and the city officials who had anything to do with the plans of the committee and the city officials who had anything to do with the plans of the committee and the city officials who had anything to do with the plans of the committee and the city officials who had anything to do with the plans of the committee and the city officials who had anything to do with the plans of the committee and the city officials who had anything to do with the plans of the committee and the city officials who had anything to do with the plans of the committee and the city officials who had anything to do with the plans of the committee and the city officials who had anything to do with the plans of the committee and the city officials who had anything to do with the plans of the committee and the city officials who had anything to do with the plans of the committee and the city officials who had anything to do with the plans of the committee and the city officials who had anything to do with the plans of the committee and the city officials who had anything to do with the plans of the committ of the committee and the city officials who had anything to do with the plans stood firmly behind the engineers.

"The public hearings have brought out no serious objections which have not been completely answered in the supplementary report of the committee, which is now before the Board of Estimate," said the Commissioner. "Mr. which is now before the Board of Estimate," said the Commissioner. "Mr. Marks, although in sympathy with the report, feared that if he signed it he would lose his influence with certain citizens whom he had called into a so-called advisory West Side committee."

The Commissioner pointed out that the committee had the opinion of one of the best qualified experts in the country that the plans would provide for a perfectly satisfactory park along Riverside Drive, which has been the principal point objected to in the proposed plans. He declared that other citizens and other organizations have all asserted that the only solution of the Riverside problem was to put the railroad in tunnel under Riverside Park.
